

Thursday December 17
Webinar ID 94271308587
(password is required)

C

Michael Betancourt

Symplectomorphic, LLC

“Bayes’d and Confused: The Challenges of Implementing Bayesian Inference in Practice”

Bayesian modeling and inference can be powerful tools in scientific analysis, but their practical utility is limited by how well they can be implemented in any given application. In this talk I will discuss why Bayesian inference is difficult to implement well in practice, the scientific problems that arise when inferences are realized only poorly, and some best practices for developing robust scientific analyses.